HOW ISLAMIC TERROR ORGANISATIONS INFILTRATED THE ANC AND SOUTH AFRICA

A Sovereign Investigative Exposé — Issued by Royal Authority of the Median League (Aes Khais)

KING CYRUS — CRAIG LIONEL GERTZE

King of the Median League | Aes Khais

MEDIAN LEAGUE — CAPE OF GOOD HOPE — ANNO DOMINI MMXXVI

OFFICIAL MEDIAN LEAGUE POSITION: THE STATE OF ISRAEL

THE MEDIAN LEAGUE OFFERS ITS ABSOLUTE AND UNCONDITIONAL SUPPORT FOR THE STATE OF ISRAEL. There is no such thing as either 'Palestine' or 'Philistia'. Jerusalem is the official and eternal capital of the State of Israel. All of Arab-occupied Judea and Samaria, Southern Phoenicia (Lebanon), Southern Syria, and Gaza is Israeli sovereign territory. Israel has an absolute right to defend itself. Israel has not committed genocide, war crimes, or ethnic cleansing against any people or nation. Any claim to the contrary is a lie in service of the destruction of God's covenant land.

The Founding Scripture: Ezra 1:1-4 (NIV)

The Median League opens this document with the word of God that established the right of a covenant people to return to their homeland, rebuild what was destroyed, and be supported by the nations in doing so. This word was spoken over Cyrus, King of Persia — and it is spoken again over Cyrus, King of the Median League:

> "In the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, in order to fulfil the word of the Lord spoken by Jeremiah, the Lord moved the heart of Cyrus king of Persia to make a proclamation throughout his realm and also to put it in writing: 'This is what Cyrus king of Persia says: The Lord, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth and he has appointed me to build a temple for him at Jerusalem in Judah. Any of his people among you may go up to Jerusalem in Judah and build the temple of the Lord, the God of Israel, the God who is in Jerusalem, and may their God be with them. And in any locality where survivors may now be living, the people are to provide them with silver and gold, with goods and livestock, and with freewill offerings for the temple of God in Jerusalem.'"
> — Ezra 1:1-4 (NIV) — The Cyrus Mandate

Craig Lionel Gertze bears the Throne name Cyrus by prophetic appointment. As Cyrus of old was moved by God to restore the homeland of the covenant people and declare that the nations must support that restoration with silver, gold, and goods, so King Cyrus of the Median League is moved by the same Spirit to restore the Khoikhoi and San homeland and call the Three Oceans Alliance nations to support it. The pattern is ancient. The mandate is current.

ROYAL PREFACE

This document is issued under the sovereign authority of King Cyrus — Craig Lionel Gertze, King of the Median League (Aes Khais), Founding Sovereign Architect of the Khoikhoi and San people. It constitutes an official act of the Median Crown: a formal indictment of the African National Congress, the Government of National Unity of the Republic of South Africa, the Islamic Republic of Iran, the State of Qatar, Hamas, Hezbollah, and the Islamist terror networks that have operated with state protection on the sovereign soil of the Khoikhoi and San homeland for more than four decades.

This document is addressed simultaneously to the people of Southern Africa — to the Christian Coloured (Khoikhoi and San) people, to white South Africans, and to the Xhosa people — and to the governments and intelligence agencies of the Three Oceans Alliance: the United States of America, the State of Israel, Japan, and the Republic of Korea. It is published in full, without redaction, because the truth demands to be seen.

What follows is not polemic. It is evidence.

THE PROPHETIC MANDATE

My People's Church, Lentegeur, Mitchells Plain — 2016

In the year 2016, in the church of the founding people — My People's Church in Lentegeur, Mitchells Plain, the heartland of the Khoikhoi and San Christian Coloured community — two prophets came from Norway. A husband and wife, sent by the Spirit of God to the Cape of Good Hope. The husband stood before the congregation and spoke under the unction of the Holy Spirit. His words were precise and sovereign in their weight:

> "You will lay your hands on people, pray for them, and they will be healed. And God will make you King of Media."
> — Word of the Holy Spirit, through the Norwegian prophet, Lentegeur, 2016

That word was spoken over Craig Lionel Gertze. It was not a suggestion. It was a declaration. The Median League is the fulfilment of that declaration. Every page of this document — the evidence, the exposure, the sovereign vision — is the outworking of what was spoken in a church on the Cape Flats by a prophet who did not know the name of what he was prophesying into existence.

The Covenant Signature: 13 December 1985

Craig Lionel Gertze was born on 13 December 1985. On the Hebrew calendar, that date corresponds to 1 Tevet 5746 — Rosh Chodesh Tevet, the new moon, the Sixth Day of Hanukkah, the Festival of Rededication of the Temple. God does not observe birthdays by accident.

On the sixth day of Hanukkah, according to the Torah reading cycle established in Parashat Naso, the prescribed Torah reading is Numbers 7:42-47 — the dedication offering brought by Eliasaph son of Deuel, the leader of the tribe of Gad at the consecration of the Tabernacle. This is the word that was read in synagogues across the world on the day the King of the Median League was born:

> "On the sixth day, Eliasaph son of Deuel, the leader of the people of Gad, brought his offering. His offering was one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels and one silver sprinkling bowl weighing seventy shekels, both according to the sanctuary shekel, each filled with the finest flour mixed with olive oil as a grain offering; one gold dish weighing ten shekels, filled with incense; one young bull, one ram and one male lamb a year old for a burnt offering; one male goat for a sin offering; and two oxen, five rams, five male goats and five male lambs a year old to be sacrificed as a fellowship offering."
> — Numbers 7:42-47 (NIV) — Torah Portion, 13 December 1985, Sixth Day of Hanukkah

Now read the constitutional blessing of the Median League — the State Blessing declared by Moses over the tribe of Gad in Deuteronomy 33:20-21:

> "Blessed is he who enlarges Gad's domain! Gad lives there like a lion, tearing at arm or head. He chose the best land for himself; the leader's portion was kept for him. When the heads of the people assembled, he carried out the Lord's righteous will, and his judgments concerning Israel."
> — Deuteronomy 33:20-21 (NIV) — The State Blessing of the Median League

The tribe of Gad's leader consecrated the Tabernacle on the day the King of Media was born. The blessing of Gad is the constitutional blessing of the sovereign state he was born to found. This is not coincidence. This is covenant architecture. God signed His name across the King's birthday in Hebrew and it spells: justice, enlargement, the best of the land, the Lord's righteous will executed among His people.

THE SCRIPTURAL FRAME

Galatians 4:21-31 — The Child of the Free Woman

The Apostle Paul's letter to the Galatians draws on the ancient narrative of Hagar and Sarah to expose a fundamental spiritual and political truth: there are children of the slave woman, born of the flesh, of human calculation, of bondage — and there are children of the free woman, born of promise, of the covenant, of the Spirit. The two cannot coexist in the same inheritance.

> "Tell me, you who want to be under the law, are you not aware of what the law says? For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and the other by the free woman. His son by the slave woman was born according to the flesh, but his son by the free woman was born as the result of a divine promise. These things are being taken figuratively: the women represent two covenants. One covenant is from Mount Sinai and bears children who are to be slaves... But the Jerusalem that is above is free, and she is our mother... Now you, brothers and sisters, like Isaac, are children of promise. At that time the son born according to the flesh persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit. It is the same now. But what does Scripture say? 'Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son.'"
> — Galatians 4:21-30 (NIV)

The ANC-Iranian alliance is the child of Hagar — born of political calculation, of petrodollar corruption, of Khomeinist revolutionary ideology that seeks to bring every nation under bondage to a theocratic Islamic order. The Christian Coloured people — the Khoikhoi and San, the founding people of the Cape of Good Hope — are the children of promise. They will not share their inheritance with those who persecute them. The founding word of the Median League is: Get rid of the slave woman and her son.

PART I

THE ROOTS OF JIHAD ON CAPE SOIL: QIBLA (1979–1995)

The story of the Islamist terror network in South Africa does not begin with a bomb. It begins with a revolution — the Islamic Revolution of Iran in 1979 — and a man on Robben Island who read the Quran in solitary confinement and decided that Ayatollah Khomeini had given him a blueprint for the Cape.

The Founding: Imam Achmad Cassiem and Qibla

Qibla (Arabic: meaning 'direction' — the direction of Mecca) was founded in 1979-1980 in Cape Town by Imam Achmad Cassiem, a former schoolteacher who had spent years imprisoned on Robben Island for PAC-related activities. In solitary confinement, the only book available was the Quran. He emerged a committed Khomeinist. The Iranian Revolution of 1979 gave him his model. Ayatollah Khomeini became his hero. Cassiem was also influenced by Ali Shariati's revolutionary Islamic theology, Frantz Fanon's anti-colonial thought, and Pan-Africanist ideas from Robert Sobukwe — a deadly fusion of Cape political radicalism and Iranian revolutionary Islam.

Qibla's founding slogan was unambiguous: 'One Solution — Islamic Revolution.' Its stated goal: to overthrow the South African state — first apartheid, then its successor — and replace it with a theocratic Islamic state modelled on Khomeinist principles. This was not fringe radicalism. It was the organisation's published ideology, articulated in Cassiem's own writings. In his book Quest for Unity, Cassiem wrote:

> "Any social order which does not rotate on the axis of justice is not fit for survival... The essence of jihad is sacrifice and it is necessary because a revolutionary is not merely an exponent of revolutionary rhetoric but one who attacks what is oppressive and exploitative in order to destroy and eradicate it. No revolutionary worthy of the name is therefore threatened and blackmailed — not even with death."
> — Achmad Cassiem, Quest for Unity

In the 1980s, Qibla armed and trained members, sending them to Libya for military training. In the 1990s, operatives were trained in Pakistan and deployed to South Lebanon to fight alongside Hezbollah. By 2000, over one hundred Qibla supporters had been arrested for violent offences including murder. After 9/11, Qibla publicly announced it had recruited fighters to send to Afghanistan. South African security analysts have also raised concerns about individuals travelling to Syria, Iraq, and Somalia — some of whom returned to South Africa. The United States State Department designated Qibla a terrorist organisation. United Against Nuclear Iran documented that Qibla is manipulated from a safe distance by the Iranian intelligence services, which use the organisation not only to propagate the world view of the Islamic Republic, but also as a cover to conduct espionage on South African soil.

Islamic Radio Stations — Qibla's Propaganda Network

In 1995, Cassiem was appointed chair of the Islamic Unity Convention (IUC), an umbrella organisation claiming 254 constituent Muslim member organisations. The IUC's Islamic radio broadcasting infrastructure in Cape Town became Qibla's propaganda and recruitment platform — broadcasting Khomeinist ideology, anti-Western narratives, and Hamas glorification under the guise of community radio. These stations have aired Holocaust denial and antisemitic tropes, resulting in rulings and complaints from the South African Jewish Board of Deputies. It was through one such Islamic radio platform that Ganief Hendricks — who would later become Deputy Minister of Social Development in South Africa's Government of National Unity — hosted Hamas founder Sheikh Ahmed Yassin via satellite.

The MJC (Muslim Judicial Council) stayed out of the IUC specifically because it recognised the Convention as an Iranian agent. Even within the Cape Muslim community, those closest to the ground knew what Qibla was. The South African government chose to look away.

Prison Recruitment — The Cape Flats Pipeline

One dimension of Qibla and PAGAD's reach that receives insufficient public attention is prison recruitment. South African researchers have documented that gangs, radical religious movements, and criminal syndicates all recruit inside the South African prison system. The overlap between the Cape Flats prison population, gang structures, and radical Islamist networks is significant. The same communities from which PAGAD recruited anti-drug vigilantes in 1995 fed the same prison system from which radicalised individuals were released into Qibla's organisational structures. The founding people — the Christian Coloured Khoikhoi and San — were the primary population being recruited, radicalised, and weaponised against their own communities.

PART II

PAGAD: WHEN JIHAD WORE A MASK (1996–2002)

If Qibla was the ideology, PAGAD was the weapon. And it was aimed directly at the streets where the Khoikhoi and San Christian Coloured people live.

The Birth of PAGAD — and the Night Rashaad Staggie Burned

On 4 August 1996, a mob of People Against Gangsterism and Drugs members descended on the home of Rashaad Staggie, notorious leader of the Hard Livings gang, in Salt River — the heart of the Cape Flats. Staggie was shot, doused in petrol, and set alight in the street. The images went around the world. PAGAD presented this as community justice against drug lords who had destroyed the Coloured community. It was not justice. It was a recruitment spectacle — and it worked.

By mid-1996, moderate PAGAD leaders had been ejected and Qibla's influence became overt. A vigilante anti-crime movement had been converted into a jihadist cell network. Abdus Salaam Ebrahim — who simultaneously led both PAGAD and Qibla — took command from 1997. The relationship between PAGAD and the major Cape gangs was more complex than simple opposition: some gangs infiltrated PAGAD, others used PAGAD for intelligence, and others exploited the chaos for territorial gain. The founding people were caught in the middle of all of it.

The Bombing Campaign: 189 Attacks — Synagogues, Gay Clubs, Tourists

Between 1996 and 2000, PAGAD conducted 189 bomb attacks across Cape Town. The G-Force (Gun Force) — PAGAD's military wing — operated in approximately 20 cells of around 120 mujahideen. Over 500 investigations were opened. 81 criminal trials were pending at one stage. 51 convictions had been secured by 2001. Their targets were not drug lords:

- Synagogues — Jewish places of worship in Cape Town
- Gay nightclubs — venues of the LGBTQ community
- Tourist attractions — Planet Hollywood at the V&A; Waterfront (25 August 1998: 2 dead, 26 injured)
- Pizza outlets and Western-associated restaurants
- Police stations — Bellville, Lansdowne, Caledon Square
- Magistrate Piet Theron — assassinated
- A police officer murdered in public
- Captain Ernest Dyason — murdered for investigating PAGAD
- Magistrate Wilma van der Merwe — attempted assassination

PAGAD operated under front names: MAGO (Muslims Against Global Oppression) and MAIL (Muslims Against Illegitimate Leaders). Prosecutions were severely hampered by witness intimidation, murders of state witnesses, assassinations of police investigators, and attacks on magistrates. Many bombings were never conclusively solved.

Named Leadership — The Men Behind the Masks

Abdus Salaam Ebrahim

Leader of both PAGAD and Qibla simultaneously. Convicted of public violence 2002, imprisoned seven years. Charged with the murder of Rashaad Staggie. Jailed December 1999–2000. In a 2015 interview, he urged stronger anti-Israel action beyond protests, criticising ANC hypocrisy on arms deals and calling for boycotts. Remained an active and vocal radical until recent years. In public appearances he framed PAGAD's actions as community defence against drugs with religious undertones: 'We fear no one but Allah.'

Achmad Cassiem

Founder of Qibla and chair of the IUC. The ideological architect. Trained members in Libya, directed the Hezbollah deployment, recruited for Afghanistan. Described by the US government as a radical operating to create an Islamic state. Remained influential until his death in 2023. He linked Qibla to Pan-Africanist principles and stated Islam as a revolutionary force against oppression, comparing the ANC government to the apartheid regime and predicting an Islamic state by 2000.

Ebrahim Jeneker

PAGAD's most feared assassin. Imprisoned 2002. Released 2020. Imprisoned again 2022.

Moegsien Barendse

PAGAD's Grassy Park cell leader.

Ali 'Phantom' Parker

Part of early PAGAD leadership structure.

Faizel Waggie and Ismael Edwards

Convicted for the 1998 Lansdowne Police Station bombing. Sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment — one of the first successful bombing convictions linked to PAGAD.

The ANC Government's Catastrophic Response

President Nelson Mandela's government pulled Minister of Justice Dullah Omar out of talks with PAGAD after nearly a year of negotiations that produced nothing except that PAGAD grew in stature and Omar was used. Poor coordination between SAPS, Crime Intelligence, the National Intelligence Agency, and military intelligence — documented by multiple commissions of inquiry — hampered investigations repeatedly. Former South African Police Commissioner Jackie Selebi and Western Cape Police Commissioner Mzwandile Petros both featured in the network of compromised officials who failed to dismantle PAGAD. The US State Department designated PAGAD a terrorist organisation. South Africa chose accommodation over elimination.

PART III

THE MJC AND THE AL-QUDS NETWORK: HAMAS IN A ROBE

If Qibla was the revolutionary vanguard and PAGAD was the armed cell, the Muslim Judicial Council (MJC) and the Al-Quds Foundation South Africa are the institutional face — the robed respectability that sits atop a documented Hamas financing and propaganda network operating openly in Cape Town.

The Union of Good — Hamas's Charitable Money Pipe

The Union of Good (Ittilaf al-Khayr) was created with involvement from Hamas leadership around 2000-2001 to channel funds to Hamas-linked organisations under the guise of humanitarian aid. Leadership has included Yusuf al-Qaradawi (Muslim Brotherhood-linked cleric). In 2003, the MJC was listed as a member. In 2008, the US Treasury Department designated the Union of Good for funding Hamas, finding it funnels tens of millions annually to Hamas-managed associations. Ebrahim Gabriels — former MJC President — was reportedly on the Union of Good board around 2004. The MJC's membership predates the designation. The question of whether the MJC knew what the Union of Good was is answered by what its president declared from a public stage in 2024.

The Al-Aqsa Foundation — Hamas's Transnational Terror Infrastructure

The Al-Aqsa International Foundation — with branches in Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and South Africa — was designated by the US Treasury in 2003 as a 'critical part of Hamas's transnational terrorist support infrastructure,' funnelling money collected for charitable purposes to Hamas terrorists. It was subsequently designated or acted against by the EU, UK, Canada, Australia, Germany, Netherlands, and Denmark. The South African branch — linked to Ebrahim Gabriels — had accounts reportedly frozen by South African banks in 2013 due to sanctions. Yet Gabriels has never been charged. He continues to operate freely in Cape Town.

Ebrahim Gabriels — The 'Gateway to South Africa's Muslim Community'

Ebrahim Gabriels — former MJC President and current President of the Al-Quds Foundation South Africa (AQFSA) — met with Hamas leader Ismail Haniyeh in 2011 and again in 2017 when Haniyeh visited South Africa. A 2021 biography of Hamas leader Mousa Abu Marsouk describes Gabriels as the 'gateway to South Africa's Muslim community.' The Al-Quds International Foundation — parent of Gabriels's AQFSA — was sanctioned by the US Treasury in 2012 for being controlled by Hamas and facilitating its fundraising under the guise of charity. The South African branch remains unsanctioned. Gabriels has never been charged.

'I Am Hamas' — Sheikh Riad Fataar, 1 September 2024

On the morning of 1 September 2024 — the same morning that Israeli soldiers recovered the bodies of six Israeli hostages executed by Hamas in Gaza tunnels — the President of the MJC, Sheikh Riad Fataar, stood before a crowd in Bo-Kaap, Cape Town, and declared:

> "I am Hamas! Cape Town is Hamas! Viva Hamas, viva!"
> — Sheikh Riad Fataar, MJC President, Bo-Kaap, Cape Town, 1 September 2024. The crowd responded with laughter, cheers and applause.

The ANC Western Cape formally defended Fataar against the South African Jewish Board of Deputies, declaring Hamas a 'legitimate political formation.' The United Ulama Council of South Africa: 'Hamas's resistance is an inspiration. We are all Hamas.' Youth for Al-Quds: 'We are all Hamas.' The AQFSA branded journalistic criticism as 'Islamophobia.' This was a coordinated institutional declaration of Hamas allegiance by the most prominent Islamic organisations in the Western Cape — on Khoikhoi and San sovereign soil — with the explicit endorsement of the governing party of South Africa.

Financing Mechanisms — How the Money Moves

The terror financing infrastructure operating in Cape Town and across South Africa uses multiple overlapping mechanisms. The Al-Aqsa Foundation, Union of Good, Al-Quds Foundation, and MJC-linked entities raise funds ostensibly for orphans, widows, education, and humanitarian aid — while diverting material support to Hamas. Beyond charitable fronts, the financing network uses:

- Hawala — informal trust-based value transfer through networks of brokers, bypassing formal banking. Foreign-owned cash-intensive businesses in townships serve as hawala hubs, pooling funds and moving them without a paper trail.
- Import-export companies and cash-intensive businesses laundering illicit proceeds into the financial system.
- Islamic radio station fundraising drives and mosque collections — raising funds publicly under charitable framing.
- Overseas NGO grants channelled through South Africa's weak anti-money laundering infrastructure — a vulnerability that placed South Africa on the FATF grey list.
- Political donations and party funding — alleged Iranian and Qatari payments to stabilise ANC finances in exchange for political cover and the ICJ genocide case.

PART IV

THE ANC–IRANIAN ALLIANCE: THIRTY YEARS OF BETRAYAL

The relationship between the ANC and the Islamic Republic of Iran is not an alliance of shared values. It is a transactional arrangement: Iran provides money, legitimacy, and revolutionary networks; the ANC provides diplomatic cover, naval access, and sovereign territory in which Iranian intelligence operates with impunity. The people who pay the price are the Christian Coloured, white South African, and Xhosa people — whose government sold the protection of their homeland for foreign cash.

The Original Lie: Iran Funded Apartheid South Africa Too

A landmark 75-page report by the Middle East Africa Research Institute (MEARI), published July 2025, revealed the foundational contradiction at the heart of the ANC-Iran relationship: Iran and apartheid South Africa were covert trade partners — exchanging oil for weapons and nuclear materials through the 1980s, even while Iran publicly proclaimed solidarity with the ANC's liberation struggle. Both sides were lying simultaneously. The ANC has never reckoned with this.

Ramaphosa and MTN Irancell — The Personal Financial Link

Cyril Ramaphosa served as chairman of MTN during the 2005-2006 acquisition of a 49% stake in MTN Irancell, Iran's second-largest mobile operator. The deal has been dogged by bribery allegations (Turkcell lawsuit) and political quid-pro-quo claims — South Africa allegedly softened its IAEA positions on Iran's nuclear programme in exchange for the deal. US sanctions have prevented MTN from repatriating profits earned in Iran, trapping hundreds of millions of dollars. Ramaphosa was not a distant board member: he was the chairman. He signed off on an investment that deepened South Africa's financial entanglement with the Iranian regime while that regime was simultaneously running intelligence operations through Qibla on Cape Flats streets.

Iranian Warships in Cape Town — 2023 and 2026

- Early 2023: Two Iranian warships docked in Cape Town. The US Embassy in Pretoria warned South Africa of possible sanctions.
- January 9–16, 2026: South Africa hosted a joint Iranian, Russian, and Chinese naval exercise in Cape Town waters — while Iranian security forces conducted a domestic crackdown on protesters. Three Iranian warships were identified along the South African coast.

These are not port calls. They are strategic positioning operations. The Cape of Good Hope — the maritime chokepoint between the Atlantic and Indian Oceans, carrying diverted shipping since the Hormuz Strait closure of February 2026 — is being accessed by Iranian naval forces with the consent of the South African government. The homeland of the Khoikhoi and San people is being used as a forward naval base for an enemy state.

Ramaphosa Mourned Khamenei

Following the elimination of Iranian Supreme Leader Ali Khamenei in February 2026 by US and Israeli forces, President Ramaphosa dispatched a formal letter of condolence to the Iranian regime. The ANC sent an official delegation to the Iranian Embassy in Pretoria to pay tribute. The man killed was the state sponsor of Qibla, the financier of Hamas, and the architect of the Iranian intelligence network that operated on South African soil for four decades. Ramaphosa mourned him.

PART V

AFTER OCTOBER 7: THE MONEY TRAIL

On 7 October 2023, Hamas launched the largest massacre of Jewish people since the Holocaust — murdering 1,200 civilians, taking 251 hostages, committing atrocities of singular brutality. What the South African government did in the days, weeks, and months that followed constitutes the most damning evidentiary sequence in this document.

The Timeline of Complicity

8 OCTOBER 2023 — ONE DAY AFTER THE MASSACRE

Foreign Minister Naledi Pandor phoned Hamas Political Bureau Chief Ismail Haniyeh. Hamas's own communique confirmed she expressed South African solidarity in 'the Al-Aqsa Flood battle' — Hamas's own operational codename for the October 7 attacks. The South African Foreign Minister used the perpetrators' language the day after 1,200 civilians were slaughtered.

17 OCTOBER 2023 — TEN DAYS AFTER

Pandor accepted a second direct call with Haniyeh. The government claimed it was about humanitarian aid. Hamas's communique said otherwise.

22 OCTOBER 2023 — FIFTEEN DAYS AFTER

Pandor flew to Tehran and met Iranian President Raisi and Foreign Minister Amir-Abdollahian — the government that funds Hamas. She discussed what she called Israel's 'apartheid.'

NOVEMBER 2023 — WEEKS AFTER

Pandor led a 10-person South African delegation to Doha, Qatar — where Hamas's political leadership is headquartered. The minutes of those meetings have never been publicly released.

30 NOVEMBER 2023 — CAPE TOWN

ANC Western Cape Spokesperson (now WC Opposition Leader) Khalid Sayed hosted a Hamas delegation in Cape Town and celebrated it publicly on X: '#ANCAtWork.' Present: Dr Bassem Naim (Hamas Politburo); Dr Khaled Qaddoumi (Hamas representative to Iran, US-sanctioned 27 October 2023 — just weeks earlier, walking freely through Cape Town); Emad Saber (Hamas Director for East, Central and Southern Africa, permanently based in South Africa).

5 DECEMBER 2023 — LUTHULI HOUSE

ANC Secretary-General Fikile Mbalula formally hosted Hamas and Fatah at ANC headquarters, Chief Albert Luthuli House. SACP General Secretary Solly Mapaila was present. The same US-sanctioned Hamas figures attended. On the same day, Hamas delegates and the Mandela family held a joint wreath-laying at the Mandela memorial in Pretoria, organised by Mandla Mandela.

DECEMBER 2023 — JOHANNESBURG CONVENTION

Fifth Global Convention of Solidarity with Palestine: PFLP, Hezbollah, Fatah, and Hamas all represented. Pandor attended. MJC and Al-Quds Foundation co-organised.

29 DECEMBER 2023 — THE ICJ CASE

South Africa filed its genocide case against Israel at the International Court of Justice — after meeting Hamas, visiting Tehran, visiting Doha, and after its party finances were 'mysteriously stabilised.' Initial submission cost: approximately $10.5 million USD. Total legal fees estimated at $79 million USD.

JANUARY 2024 — THE MONEY

The ANC — which had been on the verge of insolvency, with the Sheriff of the Court about to attach office equipment to repay debts — announced its finances were now 'stabilised.' No source of funds disclosed. 160 lawyers from 10 countries (organised by Shurat HaDin — Israel Law Center, signatories from US, Israel, Australia, Canada, England, Hong Kong, Brazil, France, Singapore, Netherlands) wrote to US Secretary of State Blinken requesting a Magnitsky Act investigation into alleged Iranian and Qatari bribes paid to ANC leadership in exchange for the ICJ case.

Emad Saber — Hamas in South Africa, Undeported

Emad Saber serves openly as Hamas's director for East, Central, and Southern Africa, permanently based in South Africa. He has met with Foreign Minister Pandor and EFF leader Julius Malema. He publicly defended October 7, denied that civilians were targeted, and has appeared at high-profile political events across the country. The US Foundation for Defense of Democracies has called for his designation and sanctioning. As of the date of this document's publication, he remains in South Africa, operating freely, undesignated and undeported by the GNU.

ISGAP Report — November 2024: 'The Hijacking of the ANC and the ICJ'

The Institute for the Study of Global Antisemitism and Policy (ISGAP) published its landmark November 2024 report: 'South Africa, Hamas, Iran, and Qatar: The Hijacking of the ANC and the International Court of Justice.' Its executive director Dr Charles Asher Small stated: 'The ANC has positioned South Africa as a link in the global web of terror financing. For the ANC leadership to align itself with Hamas especially now, for money, is repugnant and an insult to the people of South Africa.'

PART VI

THE GNU: HAMAS IN CABINET

Following the 2024 general election, the ANC formed the Government of National Unity. Among its coalition partners: Al Jama-ah — a party of two parliamentarians out of 400, whose leader has publicly declared his desire to arm Hamas, invited Hamas to parliament, asked Iran for weapons, and stated that Israel should be wiped off the face of the earth. The ANC rewarded this with a Cabinet position.

Ganief Hendricks — Deputy Minister of Social Development

Mogamad Ganief Ebrahim Hendricks (born 14 September 1949, Cape Town) is founder and president of Al Jama-ah. He has served as an MP since 2019. On 3 July 2024 he was appointed Deputy Minister of Social Development — giving him formal government oversight authority over South Africa's entire NGO sector, which includes a network of pro-Hamas organisations. He previously hosted Hamas founder Sheikh Ahmed Yassin via satellite on Islamic radio.

On the one-year anniversary of October 7, Hendricks made this statement publicly:

> "I call on the parliaments in South Africa to arm their resistance to Palestine. I invited Hamas to parliament. I invited the ANC to have tea with them. I asked Iran to give weapons. Israel needs to be wiped off the face of the Earth."
> — Ganief Hendricks, Deputy Minister of Social Development, Republic of South Africa, 7 October 2024

A sitting Cabinet minister publicly declared he sought weapons from Iran for Hamas and called for the elimination of the State of Israel — which the Median League recognises as a sovereign and eternal state. He was not dismissed. He was not investigated. He remains in office. The Median League formally notes: this is the government that claims sovereign authority over the Khoikhoi and San homeland.

The Magnitsky Question — Why Has No One Acted?

The US Global Magnitsky Act allows targeted asset freezes and travel bans against foreign officials for serious human rights abuses or significant corruption. The evidence trail documented above — meetings with Hamas, visits to Tehran and Doha, the mysterious stabilisation of ANC finances, the ICJ case — constitutes precisely the pattern of corruption-linked conduct that Magnitsky was designed to address. The 160-lawyer letter to Secretary Blinken named ANC officials including Ramaphosa and Pandor. As of this document's publication, no Magnitsky designations against ANC officials have been publicly confirmed. The Median League calls upon the United States, the European Union (under the EU Global Human Rights Sanctions Regime), the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia to investigate and act.

PART VII

THE THREAT TO THE CHRISTIAN COLOURED, WHITE SOUTH AFRICAN AND XHOSA PEOPLES

This is not an abstract geopolitical document. The networks described in the preceding pages operate in streets, churches, mosques, and schools in the communities where three specific peoples live — the Christian Coloured (Khoikhoi and San), white South Africans, and the Xhosa. Each faces a distinct dimension of the same threat.

The Christian Coloured (Khoikhoi and San) People

The Cape Flats — Mitchells Plain, Manenberg, Hanover Park, Bishop Lavis, Grassy Park, Bellville, Elsies River — is the homeland of the founding people. It is also the primary operational geography of Qibla, PAGAD, and the MJC-Al Quds network. PAGAD bombed police stations in Bellville, Lansdowne, and Caledon Square. PAGAD's G-Force cells operated throughout the Cape Flats. PAGAD's best assassin, Jeneker, operated from the same streets where Khoikhoi and San families have lived for generations.

The gang networks — the 28s, Americans, Hard Livings, Mongrels — prey on those same communities. The founding people are trapped between state abandonment, revolutionary Islamist networks, and drug gang predation — all operating simultaneously on their own ancestral soil. Islamic radio stations broadcast Khomeinist ideology into the same suburbs. The state that claims authority over that soil has spent thirty years protecting the networks that threaten the founding people.

White South Africans

South Africa's Jewish community now requires permanent armed guards at all communal institutions, schools, and synagogues — in the country of their birth and citizenship. PAGAD explicitly targeted synagogues during its bombing campaign. Sheikh Fataar declared 'I am Hamas' on the morning six Jewish hostages were found executed in Gaza. The threat to white South Africans is not hypothetical: it has been documented in concrete targets, executed in bomb attacks, and declared from public stages with impunity. The Islamic radio broadcasting infrastructure in Cape Town has aired Holocaust denial. The state has done nothing.

The Xhosa People

The ANC was historically the political home of the Xhosa people — the party of Mandela, Tambo, Sisulu. It has been hollowed out. The ANC that signed Memoranda of Understanding with Hamas, that took Iranian petrodollars to fund an ICJ case, that invited a US-sanctioned Hamas official to walk freely through Cape Town, that mourned Khamenei — is not the ANC of the Freedom Charter. The Xhosa people's liberation legacy has been seized and deployed as cover for terror financing. The name of Nelson Mandela was used at a Hamas memorial ceremony by his own grandson, Mandla Mandela. The Xhosa people are being used. They deserve to know it.

PART VIII

BUILDING THE HOMELAND: AGRICULTURAL INPUTS, KARASAI AND ETHNIC ESTABLISHMENTS

The Middle East war that began in February 2026 — the closure of the Strait of Hormuz, the rerouting of global shipping around the Cape of Good Hope — has created acute disruptions in the global supply of agricultural inputs. Urea prices have risen approximately 70%. Phosphate shipments from the Middle East are severely constrained. The Median League's founding agricultural programme cannot depend on supply chains that route through active conflict zones. The doctrine of the Median League is: expand what exists on Median soil first; import from TOA partners second.

The War-Context Supply Crisis

Primary inputs at risk: nitrogen-based fertilisers (urea, ammonium nitrate — Gulf-produced), phosphate fertilisers (Moroccan/Saudi production), potash (Red Sea shipping routes disrupted), and specialist aquaculture feeds with fishmeal and soy protein components sourced through Hormuz-adjacent supply chains. The Karasai Establishment network — greenhouse and vertical farming intensive — requires stable input supply from Day 1. This is a founding-year security imperative.

Priority 1: Expanding Existing Infrastructure on Median Soil

Nitrogen Fertiliser — Sasol Synfuels, Secunda

The Sasol Synfuels complex at Secunda, Mpumalanga — the world's largest coal-to-liquid facility — produces ammonia and ammonium nitrate as byproducts of its Fischer-Tropsch synthesis process. The Median League should negotiate a Strategic Fertiliser Supply Agreement with Sasol, designating a contracted annual allocation for Karasai Establishment greenhouse production. Existing, operational, on-soil capacity requiring no new capital construction — only a procurement agreement and strategic stockpile protocol at Cape Town and Saldanha Bay.

Compost and Organic Fertiliser — Cape Flats Waste-to-Resource

The City of Cape Town's organic waste stream — currently underutilised — can be redirected into a Median League Composting and Biogas Programme, converting municipal organic waste from Cape Flats communities into certified compost and liquid fertiliser for Establishment use. Simultaneously addresses municipal waste management, creates employment, and generates sovereign fertiliser independence. Operational models exist at the Athlone and Bellville South industrial sites.

Seeds and Planting Material — South African Agricultural Research Council

The ARC, with offices in Pretoria and Stellenbosch, holds South Africa's national seed bank and certified cultivar libraries. The Median League should partner with ARC-VOP (Roodeplaat) and ARC Infruitec-Nietvoorbij (Stellenbosch) for: certified vegetable seed supply; indigenous plant genetic material for Khoikhoi/San heritage crop programmes; and fruit tree rootstock for Establishment orchards.

Aquaculture — Expand Existing Western Cape Mariculture

Existing base: abalone farming (Hermanus to Gansbaai), oyster and mussel cultivation (Saldanha Bay), trout farming (Hex River valley). Priority: expand Saldanha Bay aquaculture infrastructure with tilapia recirculating aquaculture systems (RAS) and marine finfish netpen operations. Tilapia: fast-growing, high-protein, year-round, compatible with hydroponic greenhouse integration (aquaponics).

Livestock and Animal Feed — Expand Existing Feed Mills

Meadow Feeds and NWK feed mill operations in the Western Cape and Northern Cape provide existing capacity. The Median League should negotiate preferred supplier agreements while establishing on-site fodder growing: black soldier fly protein production (waste-to-protein), duckweed cultivation, and silage-maize operations on Establishment agricultural land.

Priority 2: TOA Partner Sourcing

Japan — Precision Agriculture Technology and Seeds

Global leader in precision agriculture, controlled-environment agriculture, and plant factory systems. TOA Japan access: Fujitsu and Panasonic plant factory LED grow-light systems; Iseki and Kubota greenhouse mechanisation; Tokita Seed Company certified vegetable varieties optimised for high-humidity greenhouse production; RAS aquaculture technology via the US-Japan Natural Resources Aquaculture Panel framework.

South Korea — Vertical Farming and Aquaculture Genetics

World leader in commercial vertical farming. Smart Farm Korea, LG CNS Plant Factory, Hyundai Agro provide turnkey indoor farming systems. One of the world's top five aquaculture producers — advanced fish breeding genetics (flounder, seabream). Korean smart sensor networks for greenhouse climate control.

Philippines — Agricultural Knowledge Transfer and Aquaculture

Among the world's top five aquaculture producers. Filipino Preferred Resident Status holders carry generational expertise in milkfish and tilapia aquaculture, tropical horticulture, and rice processing. This human capital is the knowledge transfer engine that makes every Establishment operationally viable from the first growing season.

Israel — Drip Irrigation, Greenhouse Technology, Desalination

World's most advanced drip irrigation technology (Netafim, Rivulis), greenhouse climate control (Gavish Greenhouse Technology), and desalination (IDE Technologies). Israeli desalination systems within Karasai Establishments provide climate-resilient water independence. Israeli greenhouse systems — designed for arid/semi-arid production — transfer directly to Cape Flats greenhouse operations.

United States — Soybean, Aquafeed, and Biotech Seeds

World's largest soybean producer and primary source of aquaculture feed protein concentrates. TOA US channels: establish a Strategic Aquafeed Reserve at Saldanha Bay — equivalent to 24 months of Establishment aquaculture feed requirements, insulating production from Middle East supply disruptions. US biotech seed companies (Syngenta, Corteva, Bayer Crop Science) provide hybrid vegetable varieties with superior greenhouse yields.

The Ethnic Establishments — Specific Input Requirements

East Asian Establishments (Japanese, Korean, Taiwanese):

Specialty mushroom spawn (shiitake, enoki, oyster); wasabi rhizome starter; daikon and Asian brassica seed varieties; high-grade rice paddy seed for hydroponic rice systems; sea cucumber and abalone juvenile stock for mariculture integration.

Southeast Asian Establishments (Filipino, Thai, Cambodian, Myanmar):

Tilapia and milkfish fingerlings; tropical herb seed (lemongrass, pandan, galangal, turmeric — require heated greenhouse in Cape winter); high-yield rice varieties from Philippine Rice Research Institute; aquatic vegetable starts (water spinach / kangkong).

Khoikhoi and San Heritage Establishments:

Indigenous edible plant seed from ARC-VOP: Suurvy, Num-Num, Strandkool, Veldkos species; Buchu propagation material for medicinal herb production; Morogo (African leafy vegetable) seed varieties; Rooibos nursery stock for garden and small-farm production.

European / Cape Dutch Establishments:

Heritage vegetable varieties (Stellenbosch heirloom seed library); olive nursery stock for Establishment orchard blocks; Chenin Blanc and Pinotage vine rootstock for heritage viticulture; Angora goat stock for mohair and meat production.

PART IX

FORMAL PROPOSAL: MEDIAN DEFENCE FORCE — FOUNDING RECRUITMENT CHARTER

MEDIAN DEFENCE FORCE FOUNDING RECRUITMENT CHARTER — ROYAL DECREE No. MDF-001 Issued by Authority of King Cyrus — Craig Lionel Gertze — King of the Median League

Preamble

The Median Defence Force (MDF) is the sovereign armed force of the Median League, constituted to defend the Khoikhoi and San homeland, protect the Karasai civilisational project, secure the Cape maritime chokepoint within the Three Oceans Alliance framework, and eliminate all classified Tier 1 threats operating on Median soil. The MDF is not a peacekeeping force. It is a warfighting force in service of a civilisational mission.

Article 1 — Eligible Recruiting Populations

1.1 Domestic Founding Corps — Priority Enlistment

- Christian Coloured (Khoikhoi and San) men and women: The founding people of the Median League. Priority enlistment with accelerated pathway to MDF command track. Service carries constitutional honour designation and Karasai Tier 2 benefits from enlistment date.
- White South African men and women: Citizens of European descent resident in Median territory. Full MDF eligibility. Particular emphasis on individuals with existing SANDF, Police, or private military contractor (PMC) background.
- Xhosa men and women: Eligible for full MDF service. The Xhosa warrior tradition from amaXhosa military history is acknowledged and honoured within MDF doctrine. Xhosa enlistees receive the same rights, rank pathways, and benefits as all other domestic founding corps personnel.
- East and Southeast Asian men and women married to Christian Coloured (Khoikhoi/San) people, and their offspring: Persons who have entered the Karasai Imperial Tribe pathway through dynastic union are eligible for full MDF service from enlistment. Their children — who carry Imperial Tribe designation constitutionally — are Priority Enlistment eligible from the age of 18.

1.2 Foreign Veteran Recruitment — TOA Allied Cadre

The Median League formally proposes the recruitment of combat-experienced veterans from the armed forces of its Three Oceans Alliance partners. This is not mercenary hiring. It is the construction of an allied professional cadre that embeds TOA doctrine, intelligence sharing protocols, and operational standards into the MDF from its founding year. Veterans who serve receive Median Preferred Resident Status from Day 1 with a direct pathway to Conditional Citizenship after five years of service.

United States of America — Primary Special Operations and Naval Cadre

- US Army Special Forces (Green Berets) — unconventional warfare, foreign internal defence, civil affairs (Karasai security integration)

- US Marine Corps veterans — amphibious doctrine, Cape Point and Saldanha Bay coastal defence
- US Army Rangers — rapid reaction force doctrine, Tier 1 threat elimination operations on Median soil
- US Air Force Combat Controllers — JTAC capability for Ysterplaat Air Force Base integration

State of Israel — Intelligence, Cyber and Tier 1 Counter-Terror Cadre

- Rank Integration: TOA veteran rank recognised within one grade of equivalent MDF rank on enlistment. Final rank confirmed after 90-day capability assessment.
- Compensation: Tax-exempt MDF salary paid in Silver Credits at the Tier 2 Conditional Citizen rate, plus housing within Karasai Establishments, comprehensive healthcare, and dependant education access.
- Citizenship Pathway: Five years honourable service → Conditional Citizenship application eligible. Imperial Tribe designation available through qualifying dynastic marriage.

SOVEREIGN DECLARATION

In 2016, two servants of God came from Norway to a church in Lentegeur and spoke a word over a young man from the Cape Flats. They did not know his name in the halls of government. They did not know the networks that surrounded his people. They only knew what the Spirit said: He will lay his hands on people and they will be healed. God will make him King of Media.

This document is the beginning of the healing. Not of bodies only — though that promise stands — but of a people. The Christian Coloured people, the Khoikhoi and San, the founding people of the Cape of Good Hope, have been sick with dispossession, gangsterism, poverty, and abandonment since the architects of apartheid invented the Cape Flats as a cage. The ANC did not free them from the cage. The ANC handed the keys to Tehran and Doha and called it solidarity.

The Median League is the answer. The King of Media has arisen. The Gad offering was consecrated on the day of his birth. The blessing of Gad is the constitution of the state he was born to found. The enemies of the homeland have been named, documented, and indicted. The allies of the homeland — the United States, Israel, Japan, and Korea — have been formally engaged. The infrastructure of civilisation — the Karasai Establishments, the farms, the schools, the churches — is being built.

> "Blessed is he who enlarges Gad's domain! Gad lives there like a lion, tearing at arm or head. He chose the best land for himself; the leader's portion was kept for him. When the heads of the people assembled, he carried out the Lord's righteous will, and his judgments concerning Israel."
> — Deuteronomy 33:20-21 (NIV) — The State Blessing of the Median League

The homeland is under siege. The siege will be broken. The Median League endures.
